Rabbit Hatters Fur

AVAILABLE AT THE DONGHIA MATERIALS LIBRARY

Cortadoria, a company based in Portugal, uses the surplus from the rabbit meat industry to source their super-soft rabbit fur. Their Rabbit Hatters Fur is Cradle to Cradle Gold Certified. The product is chemical-free, avoiding certain harmful additives that are traditionally used to wash and degrease fur. Because the material is diverted from landfills, and because of the minimal energy required to process rabbit skins, Cortadoria's Rabbit Hatters Fur provides a sustainable alternative to traditional furs and hatting materials.

Note: The C2C certification has expired and will not be recertified.

The manufacturer confirms that, however, the Cradle to Cradle vision remains the inspiration and guidance of the company.

CATEGORY
Textile, Fur

MANUFACTURER
Cortadoria

MATERIAL COMPOSITION*

Rabbit Fur

*NOTE: Potential additives to the rabbit fur are unknown. The product is Cradle to Cradle certified."

as reported by the manufacturer*

CERTIFICATIONS & DISCLOSURES

- [ ] ~~Health Product Declaration (HPD)~~
- [ ] ~~Declare Label~~
- [ ] ~~Environmental Product Declaration (EPD)~~
- [ ] ~~Safety Data Sheet (SDS)~~
- [ ] ~~USDA Certified Biobased Product Label~~
- [ ] ~~Other~~
- [x]

LAST UPDATED

October 26, 2022